Incorrect Weight Declaration

1. The consignor undertakes that they will make all reasonable efforts to correctly estimate the weight of the shipment and declare the correct weight slab. If Kingfish Logistics identifies that the shipment weight has been under-declared to a lower weight slab, then Kingfish Logistics has the right to seek compensation for the additional undeclared weight through various means, in its sole discretion, not restricted to holding the shipment.

Things to be taken into consideration while packing are as follows:

1. Measure the dimension of the product to select the appropriate size box/flyer / envelope.
2. Weigh the item to select the strength of the box/flyer required.
3. Wrap the product with 2 layers of bubble wrap before putting it inside the box/flyer.
4. If packing multiple products, pack individual products in bubble wrap.
5. Place the goods inside the box and check if any void space is left inside the box.
6. In case of any void space, it must be filled with filler material like air cushions/air pouches/crumbled paper/cardboard inserts (used as dividers for packing multiple products) to restrict the movement of the product packed inside the box.
7. Make sure the product is surrounded with the filler material around it with the product being placed in the center of the box.

8. After closing the flaps of the box, apply H - taping on the box by sealing the center and edge seams of the box.
 9. Customer must shake the box to check whether the product packed inside is moving or not. If it is moving, then add more filler material to restrict its movement inside the box.
- Kingfish Logistics's liability for packaging is limited to providing outer/secondary packaging only to provide support to its customers. The use of Kingfish Logistics provided packaging is not a guarantee that an item is sufficiently packaged for transportation. The liability for proper packaging continues to be fully on the consignor.
 - Inner Packaging is the packaging material that first envelops the product and holds it. For example, suitable packing materials are bubble wrap, rolled corrugated cardboard, etc. For very delicate contents such as glass, we recommend using five or six-ply bubble wrap. You should only use crumpled newspapers as filling material for products that are not particularly delicate or fragile in nature. Outer Packaging is the original packaging / the packaging in which it was sold and is not to be considered suitable for sending the parcel.
 - Kingfish Logistics does not provide special handling stickers for packages bearing the tag "Fragile", Package orientation markings (e.g., "UP" arrows or "This End Up"), or any other similar markings.
 - Kingfish Logistics will not entertain any claims for shipments damaged due to poor Inner Packaging (as defined hereinafter).
 - In case of damage caused to a shipment due to poor packaging, Kingfish Logistics will not be liable for any compensation.
 - Arbitration - All disputes, differences, claims or questions between Kingfish Logistics and consignor or anybody claiming through or on behalf of the consignor shall be referred to arbitration to be held in accordance with the provisions of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act 1996 or statutory modification or re-enactment thereof for the time being in force
 - The arbitration proceedings shall be held and conducted in Delhi. The award of the arbitrator shall be final, compulsive and binding upon the parties.
 - Subject to the provisions of arbitration clause hereinabove the courts in Delhi shall have the executive jurisdiction to deal with all disputes and matters regarding performance or non-performance of obligations under or in respect of transaction covered by this consignment.
